

The Royall Subjects Joy,

O R, Joyfull news to all that faithfull be,
And doth desire a happy year to see,
To see the same let all good Christians! pray
That Charles in peace, may Crown and Scepter sway,
Then should we see such love in fair England,
No forreign Nation durst against us stand.

The Tune is, Sound a charge.

YOU Loyall Subjects all
sing for joy, sing for joy;
Good news here's at White-Hall,
sing for joy.
A second Charles is come,
Though heaby news to come,
Let them say no more but mu n.
sing for joy, sing for joy.

Long time we did him want,
sing for joy, sing for joy;
Which made all trading scant,
sing for joy;
But now I hope that the shall better trading see,
And live in unity.
sing for joy, &c.

Our Royal Parliament.
sing &c.
I hope will give content,
sing for joy.
That Charles of high renown,
In peace may wear the Crown,
And pull all Schisms down,
sing, &c.

For George our General
sing for joy, &c.
Let us pray both great and small,
sing for joy.
That faithfull he may stand,
For the good of fair England,
Then we will fight with heart and hand
sing, &c.

For if Charles do wear the Crown,
sing, &c.
And pull all Taxes down,
sing for joy.
Then Quakers look about,
For you will have the rout
of that thtre is no doubt,
sing, &c.

The Gospell flourish shall,
sing, &c.
Heavens bless them at White-hal'
sing, &c.
Lord grant they may agree,
That we all may see,
And joyfull unity,
sing, &c.

The Royall Subjects Joy,

O R, Joyfull news to all that faithfull be,
And doth desire a happy year to see,
To see the same let all good Christians! pray
That Charles in peace, may Crown and Scepter sway,
Then should we see such love in fair England,
No forreign Nation durst against us stand.

The Tune is, Sound a charge.

YOU Loyall Subjects all
sing for joy, sing for joy;
Good news here's at White-Hall,
sing for joy.
A second Charles is come,
Though heaby news to come,
Let them say no more but muh.
sing for joy, sing for joy.

Long time we did him want,
sing for joy, sing for joy;
Which made all trading scant,
sing for joy;
But now I hope that we shall better trading see,
And live in unity.
sing for joy, &c.

Our Royal Parliament.
sing &c.
I hope will give content,
sing for joy.
That Charles of high renown,
In peace may wear the Crown,
And pull all Schisms down,
sing, &c.

For George our General
sing for joy, &c.
Let us pray both great and small,
sing for joy.
That faithfull he may stand,
For the good of fair England,
Then we will fight with heart and hand
sing, &c.

For if Charles do wear the Crown,
sing, &c.
And pull all Taxes down,
sing for joy.
Then Quakers look about,
For you will have the rout
of that there is no doubt,
sing, &c.

The Gospel flourish shall,
sing, &c.
Heavens bless them at White-hal'
sing, &c.
Lord grant they may agree,
That we all may see,
And joyfull unity,
sing, &c.

The Second Part,

To the same Tune.

For Sects and Schismes hey,
sing &c.
Shall in England bear no sway,
sing, &c.
Neither nor any other which would the Gospell smother.
If that he were my Brother,
sing, &c.

Good Souldiers will not daunt,
sing, &c.
What, though they mony want,
sing, &c.
Their Arrears are all at hand.
That will true and faithfull stand,
And be at Charles s and Georges command.
sing, &c.

England rejoice with me.
sing, &c.
The happy days shall see,
sing for, &c.
For I hope all Traders will mend,
And cruell wars will end.
Pease so much will stand our friend,
sing, &c.

Merchants of high renoton
sing, &c.
If Charles enjoy the Crowne,
sing, &c.
Most happy dayes shall be,
Trading so good will be.
If Charles and George agree.
sing, &c.

If all this to pass do come,
sing &c.
Then let both all and some
sing for joy.
Then will all Englands foes Lament their grieuous toyes, for fear of English blowes,
sing, &c.

So to conclude I cry
sing, &c.
for peace and libertie,
sing, &c.
Let all true Subjects stand
for the good of fair England,
Under Charles and George command.
sing, &c.

So as I first began,
sing, &c.
My Subject still shall run,
sing, &c.
Let all good Christians pray
That Peace may bear the sway, Amen. Amen I say.
sing for joy, sing for joy,

FINIS T.R.

London, Printed for Charles Tys on London Bridge.